Women's Georgette Crepe Jumper Frocks Become Formal Affairs in Southern Modes These Featured Are $135

Frocks which tell the subtle difference in the fashions of the new season make these collections of deep interest to her who journeys southward and the woman who remains at home.

And here both may come with full assurance of finding the newest at its best, of which the evening frock especially featured is a notable example, so delightfully new and different it is.

The Over-Blouse Embroidered in Beads and Stitchery The Wide Uneven Hem Line Banded in Beads Give Distinction and Individuality

That the jumper mode has conquered every phase of dress, this lovely frock attests.

Within its simplicity of line is the elaboration required for evening carried out in glinting embroidery upon a flesh-tinted background. It is priced $135.

Frocks for daytime show the same tendency in variation of the two-piece mode.

There isn't a bit of "doo-dab" on any Tailored Woman model. What there is, and is distinctly, may be summed up as an avid sense of line and a restraint that is the despair of the tackers-on of trifles! . . . The Tailored Woman accomplishes its effect in the use of subtle lines and graceful proportions. Its job is to make the woman more important than the frock. . . . The Tailored Woman shows many things. Hats, Coats, Evening Gowns, Wraps, Knitted Dresses, Tailored Dresses, and Afternoon Frocks. And there is not one thing in the whole shop that a knowing woman would not be proud to wear. # To Be Formally Opened on New Year's Eve-The New

BOSTON OYSTER HOUSE

Chicago's Most Historic Restaurant In the New Morrison Hotel, Madison and Clark Streets, Chicago

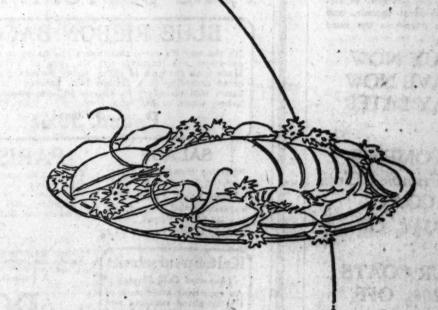

NDIANS roamed the prairies when the first Boston Oyster House was built. In faded woodcuts, half a century old, that depict the vanished four-story Morrison Block, the iron disc and pedestal are shown which bore the painted sign of the wonderful old restaurant.

From then till now it has played its part in giving to the historic corner of Madison and Clark Streets a character and atmosphere possessed by no other city location in the world.

But it was the extraordinary quality of its sea-food that especially appealed to epicures, connoisseurs and bon vivants from every part of the globe. Night and day, even in the early years, it was the rendezvous of men who have made civic and national history. Many a great enterprise was planned across its hospitable tables. The thousands who came here were all drawn by the same magnet—the rare delicacy of the food, and a delightful informality in the service that was not entirely Bohemian, but had all the appealing charm associated with the name.

This internationally famous sea-food restaurant is so rich in treasured memories that in the new building we have duplicated nearly every detail of its predecessor. It is true that we have added to service and equipment whatever experience and modern invention could devisea nigher artistic perfection—a greater picturesque appeal. But when it opens again on New Year's Eve, you will find here what you have always valued most -a classic note of individuality-an inimitable "tang" of character revealed by no other restaurant that the earth contains.

Colvin's agreement to the terms, however, averted an onslaught against the administration of the parole system under Small by some of the prosecutors, who in the words of State's Attorney Besse of Whiteside county, retiring president of the association, were determined to "call a spade a spade" in discussing practices of the parole board.

SOUTH PARKS ASK LACK OF STATE NEW RIVER BRIDGE City and Nickel Plate

for Link at Mouth.

Congressional approval of the proposed bridge at the mouth of the river to link the new outer drive with the Lincoln and south park systems was sought yesterday by President Edward J. Kelly and 'be south park commissioners. They forwarded to Congressman Fred A. Britten [Rep., III.] a bill which provides the desired approval.

One other minor claim temains to be settled, that of the National Fireproofing company now asking the federal court to pass on its claims to a slip. All necessary federal permits have been obtained and nothing stands in the way of actual digging except lack of a permit from the state division of waterways. A general plan for Calumet harbor was approved by the city council more than five years ago.

Other Owners Are Willing.

start the war department has no jurisdiction over the favored site and that the matter must be decided by congress.

Conferences followed between the south park and Lincoln park commissioners and Representative Britten, at which Mr. Britten favored the river mouth bridge and promised to exert his efforts in speedily obtaining the consent of congress.

Plan of River Mouth Link.

Mr. Kelly has provides for extension of the South Park drive to Randolph street, there angling lakeward, crossing the river at its mouth, and joining Lake Shore drive at the foot of the Municipal pier. The plan has been favorably considered by the Chicago plan commission, the members of which, however, also approved the war department project. The park commissioners' objection to that plan was that it would require years to obtain the consent of property owners in the district north of the river and that it would be more expensive and less boau tiful.

Should congress and favorably and the voters approve the head sense.

Should congress act favorably and the voters approve the bond insue, work will begin early next summer, Mr. Kelly declared, adding the hope that by next winter Chicago's traffic problem would be greatly relieved with a basultful outer drive joining the two great park systems.

PERMIT DELAYING CONGRESS O.K. ON CALUMET HARBOR

Await Action. BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Urge Britten to Push Bill riparian rights to establish an industrial harbor in Lake Calumet was approved yesterday by Judge Hugo Friend of the Circuit court. This pact related to the property of the Nickel Plate railroad as ashore owner. One other minor claim remains to be

Other Owners Are Willing. It is planned and hoped to put the bill through congrers within the next month, so that the voters at the April election may act on an $3,000,000 bond issue, and thus hasten construction of mately 2,144 acres within the harbon mately 2,144 acres within the harbon mately 2,144 acres within the harbon area. Of that space the plan provides that 1,451 acres shall be land and 69, acres shall be water.

War department efficials, principally Maj. Rufus Putnam, federal district engineer, had suggested that the drive be cut through railroad yards and the commercial district east of Michigan avenue and indicated that for the present they would withhold consent to building a bridge at the mouth of the river.

But later Maj. Putnam notified Mr. Relly that the war department has no jurisdiction over the favored site and that the matter must be decided by congress.

that 1.451 acres shall be land and 697 acres shall be water.

The water area consists of a main channel from the Calumet river northment in the United States would award through the center of Lake Calumet river northment is to be used. This main channel is to be used. The main channel will be about 12,000 feet long and 1,600 feet wide, and cover about 471 acres. Prospect William ask from England $8 a bushel for wheat and 75 cents a pound for cotton. The real extent of the extortionate price for rubber is disclosed by this dredge channel and slips to a depth of more than 21 feet.

Because Silver King's so all-round good -good to taste, good in every ingredient.

The flavoring? Brewed essence of fine Caribbean ginger with a dash of ripe natural fruit juices and pure cane sugar. The "kick" in Silver King Ginger Ale doesn't come from coarse ginger oil or biting red pepper. There's no synthetic fruit mixture, saccharine or artificial coloring matter.

The water is Silver King Sparkling Mineral Water-a fine drink in itself. No chlorinated city water or lifeless distilled water.

However, feeling the urse to give a lift to some poor blow creature, he experiments on those with whom he comes in contact, until he finds one, the is in reed of help. This proves to be a delicate looking manicure girl. Violet Martin, the serves him regularly. He offers her and a member of her family a vacation at Monte carlo. She has dinner with her flancé, Robert, and persuades him to act as her brother, they call on Sir Hargrave and tell him they will go. In Monte Carlo their host tells them day are free to do as they please, gives them plenty of spending money, and places a car is their discussing him at the Sporting club in a way that made her think they were his enemies.

INSTALLMENT XV. AN APPEAL.

Hargrave realized with unfaltering conviction that this passionate quest of for sensation, to feel absolutely and completely before the end, was finished to the strangest and most unlikely of places. Her words had been common hace enough, but underneath them was that curious tremor of truth. Her glance might have been meant to be merely pleasantly and girlishly provocative, yet to him it carried another message. Here was madness, ready for the raking! His protégée, a child, trusting in his word, removed from him by her ath, by the hard fought struggle of her life, by every sense of decency. she had succeeded whilst the others round him falled hour after hour. looked after her as a man may look at the ghost of his vain desires.

There was after all some slight delay before Hargrave was able to sum Mademoiselle Diane from the game which enthralled her. Caught up in the block of people at the entrance to the chemin de fer room, he was ienly accosted by the womap who had excited Violet's curiosity. "It is Sir Hargrave Wendever, is it not?" she asked, with a smile. "Might

Silence of Holidays

BY EDWARD MOORE.

After a ten days' holiday silence, the ecital season began again yesterday by this matter and some other little things. And Miss Reed is to be in a corning with a joint program by Even his great singing, however, failed to convert at least one hearer that there is much worth hearing in the aria from Meyerbeer's "L'Africaine," but he sang lieder as he did Handel, so all was well again.

Mme. Novaes altered her program at the start, playing an excerpt from Gluck's "Alceste," in the Saint-Saëns de León. "The Fountier was about Ponce de León." The Fountier was about Ponce de León." The Fountier was about Ponce de León." The Fountier was about Ponce de León. "The Fountier was about Ponce de León."

The spirit of college life, reminiscent of strolling student troubadours; the moaning of saxophones on midnight air, "rusty hinge" quartets, canoeing on a silvery lake to the accompaniment of strumming banjos and crooming voices—all these were present in the lively program of songs and musical pieces which the Cornell University Glee and Mandolin clubs gave at Orchestra hall last night before an audience composed largely of alumniand students of the school and their families.

Straight Line Frocks Must Pay a Panel-ty

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK .- [Special Correspond-

nce.]—Almost every straight line cos-me of today pays a panel-ty for its lack of conformity to the prevailing flare. Of course, this will not mislead you into thinking the panel never takes any part in producing the flare. Indeed, the separate panels which often overlap each other and which equently widen at the hem have a cided function in effecting today's voluminous hem line.

The side panels used on today's imported model do not, however, belong to this latter variety. They do nothing to dispel the aspiration toward a straight line career which is expressed.

by this simple and exceedingly smart creation of flat crêpe. The most that they accomplish is a softening of the up and down line.

Aside from this function, these side pieces are here to inform you once more of the important part played by plaits in all the midseason models. In this case there are three intervals of tiny hand made tucks running vertically to contrast with the diagonal tucks that border each panel. This contrast between vertical and diagonal tucks would be sufficient to vary these (Picture on back page.) Relatives of the late Father Daniel McGuire, pastor of Visitation church, directed charges against Monsignor Patrick J. McDonnell of St. Mel's church, a prominent Catholic clergy-man in Chicago, as they sought in court yesterday to break a will in which Pather McGuire left most of his $1,000,000 estate to the Chinese Mis-Sion society.

The jury selected in Circuit Judge Hugo M. Friend's court to hear the case was told that Monsignor McDonnell and Patrick J. Shine, former sexton of the Visitation church had conspired to gain an influence of the aged pastor which resulted in the will cutting off most of his relatives.

When Father McGuire died in April, 1923, he left a will which gave bequests of $2,000 each to a sister, Mrs. Mary Murphy, a brother, Bernard McGuire, and to three nieces, Catherine Murphy. Winifred Grogan, and Helen Heinen. The remainder of the estate was deeded to the Chinese Mission society. Monsignor McDonnell executor. Mind Unsound, Kin Say.

Immediately, other relatives as well as those given $2,000 bequests, made charges that Father McGuire, who reduced after serving as paster of Visitation church for 30 years, had been of the striped patterns. Proportion of total advertising carried by each Chicago newspaper from January 1 to December 21, 1925.

FEW days ago The Chicago Tribune passed the advertising goal of 100,000 columns. That is a lot of advertising. For The Tribune it is a new starting point.

The Tribune takes the position that it is destined for even greater usefulness to advertisers, not merely because of a determination to grow—a determination of all active, progressive commercial enterprises, but because of its actual knowledge of Tribune power to build increased sales, to build success, to stimulate prosperity.

In all branches of advertising—national, automobile, local and want-ad—The Tribune has made enormous advertising gains in 1925. Some of the stories of great business growth through the use of Tribune advertising have been published in page advertisements carried in metropolitan newspapers. Oil-o-matic, Kellogg, Walgreen, Studebaker, Postum are a few of the successes whose stories have been told. Many others have been added to the list during 1925, and Tribune men have definite accounts of Tribune ability to build new enterprises and to pile up undreamed-of sales for old established businesses.

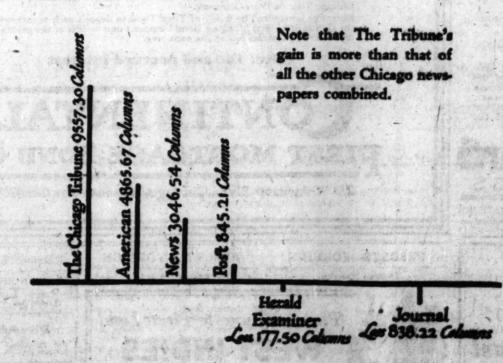

Final figures on advertising gains for 1925 are not yet compiled. But throughout the year The Chicago Tribune has led all other metropolitan newspapers. In Chicago The Tribune's gain has surpassed the combined gains of

Banco Nacional de Panama

$1,000,000

(National Bank of Panama)

Guaranteed Sinking Fund 61/2 % 20-Year Gold Bonds (SERIES A)

Dated January 1, 1926

Due January 1, 1946

Unconditionally guaranteed as to principal, interest, and sinking fund by The Republic of Panama, which guarantee shall be evidenced upon the bonds

Coupon bearer bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500 each. Principal and interest (January 1st and July 1st) to be payable at Trust Company of North America, Trustee, New York City, in United States gold coin of or equal to the standard of weight and fineness existing January 1, 1928, without deduction for any taxes, imposts, levies or duties of any nature now or at any time hereafter imposed by the Republic of Panama, or by any state, province, municipality, or other taxing authority thereof or therein, and shall be payable in time of war as well as in time of peace and whether the holder be a citizen or a resident of a friendly or hostile state.

For further information regarding this issue of bonds, reference is made to a letter of Banco Nacional de Panama, signed by Hon. Enrique Greenzier, consul general of the Republic of Panama in New York as the bank's attorney-in-fact, and from which the following is summarized:

The bonds will be a direct obligation of Banco Nacional de Panama secured by mortgages given for loans made by the bank in an aggregate principal amount not less than 140% of the principal of these bonds. The mortgages are security for loans made by the bank for sums not exceeding two-thirds of the value of the city property and one half of the value of rural property given as security, and at least seventy per cent (70%) of the mortgages are on improved properties located in the cities of Panama and Colon. The appraised improved value of the properties mortgaged as security for the bank's loans exceeds twice the amount of the total loans. No loan in excess of $75,000 has been made to any one individual, firm or corporation.

The bonds are redeemable in whole at the option of the bank on any interest payment date after January 1st, 1936. Prior to maturity at 101 and accrued interest. The provision of a yearly sinking fund of $50,000, commencing January 1st, 1927, will retire the entire issue by maturity. Through the operation of the sinking fund, the bonds are redeemable on any interest payment date as follows: On or after January 1, 1927, and on or before January 1, 1931, at 1021/4; after January 1, 1931, and to and including January 1, 1936, at 102%, and after January 1, 1936, at 101%.

Banco Nacional de Panama is organized under the laws of the Republic of Panama and its entire issued and outstanding stock is owned by the Republic. Its capital and surplus, as of October 15, 1925, amount to $1,237,774.71. Since 1920, it has assumed certain functions of the treasury of Panama, receiving taxes, issuing checks, etc., and acting as administrator, depository, and distributor of the Panama government funds.

Article I of the treaty ratified February 26, 1904, between the United States and the Republic of Panama, provides that "the United States guarantees and will maintain the independence of Panama." In accordance with the terms of article XIV of this treaty, the United States paid $10,000,000 gold to the republic. The constitution of Panama stipulates that $6,000,000 of this payment shall permanently be kept invested in interest-bearing securities. An act passed by the national assembly of Panama and signed by the president provides that this "constitutional fund" shall be invested in first mortgages on New York City real estate; and the fund is and has been so invested. William Nelson Cromwell, Esq., is fiscal agent of the republic in New York City, and is duly empowered to keep the constitutional fund thus invested. Under the terms of the treaty, the United States also is obligated to pay the republic $250,000 gold per annum. These payments are made on February 26th of each year.

The external funded debt of the republic aggregates about $5,800,000. The total fixed service on such external debt is now approximately $460,000 per annum; whereas net income from the constitutional fund for the year 1924 plus the annual payment by the United States was approximately $575,000.

Price 100¾ and accrued interest to yield approximately 6.47%

The above bonds are offered if, when and as issued and received by the undersigned, and subject to the approval of counsel, Messrs. Hornblower, Miller and Garrison, acting for the bankers, and Messrs. Sullivan & Cromwell for Banco Nacional de Panama and the Republic of Panama. In the first instance, interim receipts of Trust Company of North America, New York City, will be delivered against payment in New York funds for bonds allotted, which interim receipts will be exchangeable for definitive bonds when prepared.

ADVANCE OFFERINGS January 1926 INVESTMENTS G. L. MILLER & CO. 30 EAST 42nd STREET

Let this Miller Book guide you to increased returns from your 1926 investments . . .

NEW YORK, N.Y.

Write for your copy today

WILL your investments during the new year average 61/2 to 7%? They can, with perfect safety, if you plan now for careful, thoughtful buying of January securities. Send for this Miller Advance Offering Book at once. To clip this coupon may mean an extra 1/2%, or 1%, or 2% return on your money all through 1926. Miller Bonds benefit any list of securities, however large or small.

Even if you place only a third of your holdings in Miller Bonds-with their proved safety and liberal return-you can bring up materially the average yield of your whole list.

Many investors who check over their holdings this month find that their Miller Bonds offer the following advantages: They are worth what they cost. The security is greater than ever. Interest is received regularly. Normal federal income tax is refunded. Various state taxes are refunded. Miller Bonds never cause uneasiness, never require attention or switching.

Prompt payment of interest and principal on any Miller Bond will be unconditionally guaranteed-by a guarantee company organized under and subject to the Insurance Law of the State of New York-for an annual premium of 1/2. of 1%.

Send in the coupon today. It will pay you to find out what G. L. Miller & Co., Inc., has to offer before investing your January funds.
